JUSTUSBOYS[®].COM

Thank you for picking up the Jan/Feb 2008 issue of the JustUsBoys.com Magazine! Starting a new year is all about fresh starts and new discoveries. This issue is packed with both.

Who better to be our first center spread of the year than 2008 Raging Stallion "Man-of-the-Year" Steve Cruz. It's a captivating and compelling interview with a man that is much more than a pornstar. He's a safe-sex educator and advocate for drug abuse prevention among the gay community.

Also in this issue, we interview Michael Brandon, the production manager of the masterpiece, Grunts. Michael didn't hold back as he told us about his past demons in prison and flying high on crystal meth. It's an interview that shows how real the world of porn really can be.

Masturbation has been around since biblical times, but we wanted to share with you some of the newer toys that make self-gratification more enjoyable. Don't miss this exciting review on the hottest toys made to get you off. Of course, we wanted to give our readers something more so we brought in our hot cover model, Jackson Wild, to test out the Fleshjack. Read the article, check out the hot photos and then be sure you visit JustUsBoys.com for an exclusive hardcore video of Jackson and his toy.

2008 is going to be a great year in the world of porn and without further ado, some new discoveries...

Below the Belt with Bel Ami Superstar SEBASTIAN BONNET

Sebastian Bonnet is, in the words of his first screen-partner, Lukas Ridgeston, “always in good spirits, easy-going and genuinely fun to be with.” The summer after he turned 18 he entered the world of gay porn by filming two scenes in Bel Ami’s Frisky Summer 2 and The English Student. He currently works full-time with Bel Ami in the post-production unit in several different capacities. He was the second cameraman for most of the Personal Trainers episodes and for some of the latest Bel Ami feature videos. With Dano Sulik, he has trained many of the second generation models at Bel Ami. Gradually expanding his talents, he learned many of Bel Ami’s behind-the-scenes crafts. He pre-edits all Bel Ami’s major videos. From the hours of raw footage, he organizes the different camera angles of the scenes into a logical sequence so George Duroy can find all the footage he needs to actually edit the films. For a few years Sebastian filmed most of the casting auditions. Now he has “graduated” into filming and directing his own episodes for the Bel Ami Website’s Exclusive line of videos.

When not busy working, Sebastian loves to travel and explore new and exotic places around the globe. During the summer months he can be found playing Squash, and he hits the slopes, in the winter, throughout Europe to Ski. At 29 years of age, he is quick to point out that he is bi-sexual and completely enjoys sex with both men and women. As they say...“Two of a kind, beats a straight all the time!” Firmly rooted in his family and work life, Sebastian takes his fame in stride and is one of the most relaxed and effaceable porn stars I have ever interviewed. — Gio

MOVIE REVIEW: Auditions 20 – Florida Part 2

The premise behind the Auditions series from Lucas Entertainment is simple enough: Newbies wishing to break into studio porn get “broken in” by Michael Lucas and his merry band of exclusive models and veteran performers. Usually these “auditions” take place in New York (as Lucas Entertainment has become synonymous with some of the best porn New York has to offer) but every now and then they take a field trip, and Auditions 18 and 20 taking place in beautiful Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Michael and his exclusives Jonathan Vargas and Luke Stevens enjoy the sun and the hottest Floridian manflesh! The first scene features Stevens getting fucked by big-dicked bad boy Angelo DiMarco. Angelo cums in Luke’s mouth with Luke lap-ping up every drop. The second scene features Michael himself plowing the hell out of smooth dreamboat Dallas Reeves. The classically handsome Reeves more than holds his own opposite Michael Lucas. Then two newbies (Eli Duran and Eric Cordova) audition each other for the cameras. The oral action in this scene is extensive with plenty of cocksucking, ass-eating and 69ing. Scene 4 features Vargas masterfully topping hunky twink West Dawson, with the finale being industry vet Trey REXX popping Nick Moretti’s Lucas Entertainment cherry.

BOTTOM LINE: Get this DVD for the first two scenes. Stevens and DiMarco explode, with the Reeves/Lucas scene being worthy of a bigger-budget production.

◀ MOVIE REVIEW: Endless Crush

Recently Falcon Entertainment signed a real-life couple, Jordan and Aden Jaric, and stated that they were going to be having sex with only each other onscreen, which is definitely unique for a big-budget gay porn studio. Endless Crush is their debut film. The story is somewhat of a sequel to the Falcon film The Crush, and tells the story of 5 friends (Mason Wyler, Todd Welch, Kurt Wild, and the Jarics) who take a vacation together in the woods. Aden has a secret crush on Jordan and wants to hook up with him again (they had already had a drunken hook-up on the 4th of July). The first scene features Kurt Wild getting pounded by Brad Star. Then the Jarics sneak off in the woods to urinate, only to spy on Cole Ryan plowing Steven Ponce. The Jarics both jack off (separately) while that goes on. Then there is a poolside fourgy with Wyler, Falcon Exclusive Tristan Jaxx, Welch, and Falcon legend Colby Taylor (who was in the original Crush movie as well). The finale features Aden and Jordan finally hooking up and doing what they do best.

BOTTOM LINE: Wyler proves that he is definitely a superstar, and the Star/Wild pairing certainly doesn't lack for chemistry. But it's the Jarics scene that shows us not just chemistry, but actual LOVE in their eyes. That alone makes this movie a must-buy.

CHARITY FOCUS: MAGNET SF

Magnet is a facility in San Francisco that provides services for gay men. Their approach is unique in the respect that they seek to take care of the mind as well as the body. In addition to providing all kinds of health services (such as testing and treatment for Syphilis, Chlamydia, and Gonorrhea, as well as Hepatitis A and B vaccinations) they also provide services like mental health counseling, drug abuse counseling, hypnotherapy, acupuncture, and massage! Located smack dab in the middle of the Castro, it's also a great place to just come and hang out (and cruise, they provide free Internet access). The website is also really cute and has all kinds of fun articles like how to properly manscape, how to tell if you are prejudiced, tips and tools if you are new to San Francisco, and even a handy-dandy guide to assplay! (Gotta love that.) In addition to that, they have a monthly listing of all of the special events that they have like parties, art showings and open mic nights. Also on the website, you can make a tax-free donation, and even see how you can volunteer your time. For more information, please visit their website at magnetsf.org

REAL COUPLE

JustUsBoys had the opportunity to touch base with one of the cutest couples to take the porn world by storm: Jet Set/Cockyboys.com dual exclusive Jesse Santana and his boyfriend Guy Parker.

How long have you two been together? JS&GP: Since January 17, 2007.

And how did you guys meet? JS: I stalked him on MySpace a little bit, and then we had mutual friends in Dallas. I just saw him out at the clubs and I found out that he became single and I went after him. GP: And I accepted. (laughs)

So did you keep track of his relationship status before you actually met him? JS: Yeah because all his boyfriends were ugly! GP: WHAT?!!

He was going out with someone too; I kind of stole him away from the guy that he was kind of talking to.

When you guys first saw each other was it love at first sight? JS: I think in my case it was. I think that he just wanted a piece of ass.

And did he get some that first night? GP: Yeah. (all laugh)

What was the first thing that you noticed about each other? JS: His tan, his arms, his eyes, and his smile. GP: His ass. (giggles)

What is a typical day like for you two as a couple? JS: I wake up very cranky. GP: Yeah, he wakes up cranky so I'm usually the one that gets up first and let him get up by himself. I do things before he wakes up so he can come out of that sleepy stage. Sometimes he sleeps in all day. JS: I stay in bed a lot.

Well it's a good thing that you made a profession out of it, isn't it? JS: (laughs) Right! Then we go tanning and we go to the gym, go out to eat dinner, and run errands. GP: We love little car rides together. JS: And lying down in bed together is our favorite time of day.

Are you two in an open or closed relationship? JS: We are in a closed relationship, but we have our fun.

Care to elaborate on that, Guy? GP: We have our fun. (sheepishly) Others can play WITH us.

What is the most romantic thing that you two have ever done for each other? JS: I thought that it was romantic when we went back to Kentucky to visit my family. We went 4-wheel riding and had sex on the 4-wheeler out in the middle of the woods. GP: We had to go back to get lube! (laughs) It was hot, but it was funny because his parents didn't know what we were doing.

So you went 4-wheel riding with the whole family? GP: No! ha-ha We left them at home. They just knew that we were going to go 4-wheel riding. We went on this property that is out there in the middle of nowhere, and fucked by a tree on the 4-wheeler.

Was it scary? GP: It was hot. No, not the fucking, the 4-wheel riding, because I just picture the two of you and it being like Alicia Silverstone's character in Clueless when she gets on the freeway and starts freaking out. GP: Oh no, when Jesse was pulling the 4-wheeler out, he accidentally hit the gas too hard and he overturned it. He flipped it on himself. It was funny. I laughed.

What is the one thing about each other that can sometimes be annoying? GP: His attitude. JS: His ditziness.

OK, and what is your favorite thing about one another?

JS: His innocence and naïveté, his childlike personality. I think it's cute sometimes. GP: The cutest thing about Jesse is the way his little nose twitches and stuff he does all the time. It's so cute. It's like, "Awww..."

What do you feel is the key to a successful relationship?

JS: I think that one thing you CAN'T do is look for things you like in other people. You can't compare what you have to anybody else. If you end a good thing then it's just going to happen over and over again. So if you've got a good thing you better find a way to keep it. GP: Same.

Does the fact that you are both in the adult industry help or hurt your relationship? Is it easier that you both do the same thing and know what the other is going through, or is it more difficult due to jealousy issues and things like that? Or a little bit of both?

JS: I think that some couples where both are in the industry definitely have difficulty with it. Us both being in the industry doesn't affect us at all, really. It's just fun for us. We have our fun with it, we're not going to take it too seriously and let it affect us. It's just more fun things that we get to do together. GP: Before I started in porn I was like, "I'll never date a porn star!" I thought, "It's not work. You're not really working," or whatever. But then I found out that it's actually a LOT of work to fuck on camera!

How influential was Jesse in your decision to start in the business, Guy? GP: Uh, I actually went with him to be with him on a shoot. It was Bottom Of The Ninth: Little Big League III from Chi Chi LaRue and Doug Jeffries. I guess Chi Chi found out that I had never done a video before, and I was thinking about doing porn. Chi Chi said, "You have to!"

How long do you guys see yourselves staying in the industry? JS: I don't really like to put a time limit on it. Maybe 2 more years? GP: I'm just getting started. JS: There are other plans. There are other things that are happening for us. GP: We have a business that we are about to start.

Steve Cruz

JustUsBoys has the exclusive interview with 2008's Raging Stallion "Man-of-the-Year", Steve Cruz. Prepare to redefine what you think of gay porn stars with this captivating look into the life of a man on a noble mission.

Your first two movies were Lords of the Jungle and Mirage for Raging Stallion. Initially, you decided not to sign on as an exclusive with Raging Stallion and you did work for other studios as well. Why did you choose the non-exclusive route at the beginning of your porn career? Politically, I needed to stay independent for the first couple months of getting into the business. One of my very good friends is Brian Mills at Titan Media and he had been trying to get me to do porn for many years. The opportunity with Raging Stallion made sense to me, but I also wanted to work with my good friend Brian Mills because he is a genius director. As soon as I got home from shooting Lords of the Jungle in Hawaii, I called Brian and told him I had finally decided to do porn and I had just shot my first movie for Raging Stallion. Thankfully, he was very happy that I got my feet wet with Raging Stallion so that when I came to Titan I would be better prepared for what it is like to shoot a scene.

What did you film with Titan Media? I got cast in H2O and I was able to fulfill a fantasy of mine because my scene partner was Francois Sagat! At that time, Francois was my ultimate fantasy man. If someone had asked me to pick anyone out of all the male porn stars that I wanted to work with, it would have been him. Thankfully, I had filmed my scenes for Raging Stallion first because I was much less nervous shooting H2O and I was fully prepared to have a totally hot scene with Francois Sagat!

Aside from Titan, you also got to work with the amazing Chi Chi LaRue. Tell me how that came to be. Well, after I filmed my first three films, I approached Collin O'Neal and asked him if he could possibly introduce me to Chi Chi LaRue because I loved her work and really wanted to work with her. I submitted my photos to her and she cast me right away in When Bears Attack. Immediately after wrapping up Mirage for Raging Stallion, I was on a plane to LA to shoot with her. She liked my performance in When Bears Attack and then cast me in LINK, her big film for 2007. I am so happy that she and I hit it off so well and we have established a great friendship.

After working for the other studios independently, how did you end up as a Raging Stallion Exclusive? Lucky for me, the offer for me to come on board at Raging Stallion was still available after I did the work for other studios. At that point, I felt like I needed the stability of a contract. At that time, I was not with an agent that would advocate for me, and I felt I needed more focused attention and going exclusive with Raging Stallion would provide that level of stability I needed. Raging Stallion is a perfect fit for me and I love Chris Ward and Michael Brandon. Shortly after becoming an exclusive, I also signed on with FabScout Entertainment as my agent for live appearances and I love them. Having both Raging Stallion and FabScout behind me has been great!

Speaking of Raging Stallion, I would be remiss if I did not congratulate you on being named the 2008 Raging Stallion Man of the Year! (Big Smile) It was something that I really wanted and worked hard for, so I was thrilled when they honored me with that title. It was beyond my wildest dreams, and I am now getting out on the road more and helping to promote the studio.

I have been to your Website (SteveCruzXXX.com) and your Blog. I must say they are great and it is very generous of you to give your fans free access. Speaking of being generous; please tell me about your current volunteer efforts and your efforts to promote safe sex through your "How I Roll" campaign. Before I started doing porn, I did some work in the public health sector. I am a designer and a lot of my clients were non-profits and the central focus of my work has been STD and HIV awareness and prevention. I am also very focused on crystal meth prevention. I am very passionate about this work. I think the experience of losing a good friend at a relatively young age left an indelible mark on me, and I feel a calling to give back to the community in whatever way I can.

Now that I am doing porn, I feel like I am a living example of sexual politics. I am on the front line and in the high risk group because I am a highly sexually active person both on and off screen. So I want to use my name and image to help raise awareness and hopefully prevent someone from making the wrong decision when it comes to sex. I think this work is very relevant right now because so many gay men are experimenting with bareback sex or doing it exclusively and for some odd reason it has become almost fashionable.

I do not know what came first, the bareback film or the practice of bare-backing in people's personal lives. Unfortunately, they both seem to fuel each other right now and it seems the sales of bareback films are at an all time high, and I think it is tragic. Now is the time to raise awareness and hopefully turn this dangerous behavior around before we have another epidemic on our hands. I speak to many young men and I am amazed at how ignorant they are when it comes to understanding what we went through at the onset of the AIDS crisis in this country. They do not know what it is like to almost lose an entire generation of people. I do not think they would be taking the risks they currently are, if they had the right history and education of the risk factors associated with bareback sex.

I am creating a website "How I Roll" which launches in January and I have partnered with the Stop Aids Project to provide STD, HIV and Drug information in an effort to give people the right information to make up their own minds. I am not preaching, but rather providing factual information to gay men in an effort to help them make smart decisions. I am hopeful that if you are an HIV negative person and you are given the facts; you are going to want to wrap it up every single time you have sex. The site is not just for negative men, it also has very important information for the positive community as well.

I applaud you for your efforts in promoting safe sex practices and being an advocate for this very important subject. Let's talk about the big Epic Film by Raging Stallion this year, Grunts. Tell me about your experience on this project. This movie is as close to a Hollywood movie as I will ever get. We went out to central California to a ranch and recreated a boot camp. The movie action was very intense and I play one of the Grunts going through basic training. A few of the guys in the cast were from the military, so they brought a very realistic element to the basic training scenes and we all were put through our paces filming those scenes. During the day, it was 100 plus degrees outside while we were filming the training scenes and at night we would shoot the sex scenes. It was a very grueling filming experience, but also very fun! I have not seen the final edited version yet, but I know that the scenes were very hot and I was at the top of my game for this movie in terms of my sex scenes.

I play one of the Ramirez brothers in this movie. I am the first to enlist and then later my brother enlists. We both become part of an experimental weapon that is used on us as test subjects. The weapon is a gas that makes you incredibly horny. It is actually loosely based on an experiment that our own government was messing around with not too long ago. The US Government was trying to develop a chemical that would turn enemy soldiers gay (Laughs very loud)! As funny as that sounds, it works really well in this film and it would have to in order to get two brothers to have sex with each other.

The central scene in the 2nd movie in the series called Brothers in Arms is about the Ramirez brothers hooking up with each other and having very hot sex.

Hmmm, an incest scene... how interesting. Yeah, it may raise a few eyebrows in the red states (Laughs). However, we are not brothers in real life and the plot line does not really define what type of brothers we are, so that is left to the viewer to decide. The guy who plays my brother is from Europe and he is very hot. His name is Orlando Toro and everyone says we look a little bit like each other. Once we got our hair and mustaches cut the same, it was a little eerie how much we truly resemble each other. However, if it were real life, I think he would be the good brother and I would be the bad brother. He tops me very well in the movie (Big smile).

Will we see more of you being versatile in your films and taking the top role as well? Yes, and Raging Stallion now knows that I can be a top as well. I do my first topping scene in Grunts. I was pretty aggressive as a top in that scene, and I think people were surprised. However, my comfort level is mostly to be a bottom on film.

For the person out there thinking about purchasing Grunts, tell me why they should buy all three movies in the package deal being offered by Raging Stallion? Well they are going to get really slamming hot sex by a very diverse cast of performers. You are also going to get realism in the overall story line. The basic training alone is very real and we got down and dirty shooting it. Also about 1/3 of the cast are actual prior military men who are fucking beautiful!

Last question, what advice do you have for anyone wanting to get into the gay porn industry. My best advice is that if you really want to do this work, do not do anything that you are uncomfortable with and never compromise yourself. If you do compromise yourself in this business you will be very unhappy and have a difficult time. To the young guys out there who are getting into this industry; do not allow anyone to pressure you into doing bareback porn. You need to value your own life above all else because you are more important than the movie you are making. We only get one gift of life and you are the one in charge of it.

Excellent advice! Thank you very much for doing this interview and I wish you continued success in all your future endeavors!

"Jumbo Shrimp." How the heck do they go together? I mean, is it Jumbo or is it Shrimp? It hurts my head to think about it.

Angel: Sweetheart, you know I love you, but let's be perfectly honest here: It doesn't take much to make your head hurt. Does your face hurt? 'Cause it's KILLING me! OH! SNAP!! Thank you very much ladies and gentlemen! We're here all week...try the prime rib!

Brandon: We are talking about new discoveries here Angel. ...and apparently, that's nothing new to you. humph I think of Christopher Columbus when I think of new discoveries. He didn't even know what he found, but he found something. Even though they are scary, it's fun.

Sometimes, I get lost on the roads and I discover new things. Affluent areas of town, ummmm... not so affluent areas of town...

Angel: Well...OK...that would actually fall into the category of discovering how resourceful you can be, so that definitely applies here too.

Brandon: I have new discoveries in bed all the time.

Angel: Yeah, that's called body hair dear.

Brandon: <scowls> Well...I discover new bills all the time.

Angel: Ummm...if you just put off paying them and then all of a sudden they are due, does that count as a new discovery? I'm not sure, I'm going to have to go to the judges on this one. Survey says? <BUZZER> Oh, no, not on the board, sorry, try again.

Angel: I discovered how much I like the music of The Jonas Brothers. They're totally the Hanson of the new millennium. Love it.

Brandon: Who? Aren't they the ones who got stuck in a whale in the Bible?

Angel: <rolls eyes> Yes dear, that's them. Now drink your juice Shelby...ANYWAY, I also discovered how much Republican politicians have gay sex. YIKES! I bet that wasn't a discovery for YOU though, was it, Mr. Vice President of Rentboy.com?

Brandon: Even if it wasn't I would pretend I didn't understand what you were talking about. (Even though most of the time I really don't.)

Angel: <deadpan> Let me put on my surprised face.

Brandon: You haven't taken that face off.

Angel: Good point. Another thing I discovered is how addicting wikipedia is. I swear, every now and then I get a bug up my ass and I will spend hours and hours reading about crap like Godzilla or David Cassidy or Tahiti. It's such a great resource.

Brandon: I can't even say wikipedia. It sounds like a rice treat or something you would get at the foreign market.

Angel: Speaking of a foreign market, didn't you discover something else recently?

Brandon: ummmm... like a new hole in my body somewhere? I think I know about all of them. Wait... you mean that bubblegummy soda from Japan? You have to use a crazy tool to open it. It took me two days to figure out how to get the bottle open. It's called Ramune or something, right? You know, that kind of stuff. Wikipedia it.

Brandon: I was a little dismayed to say I discovered that parking tickets don't vanish. I mean, I kinda thought they didn't, but this discovery hurt...my pocketbook.

Angel: What did you think, that they were some myth like Santa Claus or the tooth fairy? Yes Virginia, there ARE parking tickets.

Brandon: What do you mean, myth? They are not real?

Angel: You also discovered how easy it is to throw your boyfriend through a sliding glass door. I happened to be there for THAT little "revelation."

Brandon: I didn't know my own strength. ...and how much the window had none. If I meant to do it, it would have been much more of a production. You are next.

Angel: I also discovered how much I DON'T miss working at the mall, ESPECIALLY around the holiday season. Kudos to the people still doing that, but if I had to deal with one more retail holiday season I would have gone absolutely postal. Oh speaking of things we discover during the holidays, I think you may have discovered about 15 extra pounds! Haha Brandon: I will now discover that I didn't hear you.

I like to discover new porn...or new and hot boys that get listed on www.rentboy.com. Now we are talking.

Angel: Well, since we are getting the shameless plugs out of the way (and I don't mean Burt Reynolds' hair) I will go on the record for saying that I LOVE it when people discover AngelBenton.com. That always makes me feel good.

Brandon and Angel: New Discoveries

Brandon: New discoveries are right around every corner. I enjoy that when I go to sleep I am able to recall the many new things from the day. I never cease to be amazed.

Angel: Any porn star discoveries that you care to mention?

Brandon: There is a new hot porn star discovered all the time. I leave that part up to Howard at FabScout. I take them down a new road after that. You?

Angel: Luke Riley. He's adorable and is going to be huge. Just wait and see. Oh! And I recently discovered how much I enjoy being a fisting top.

Brandon: I just discovered a new level of surprise. I don't think so.

Angel: Calm down, I was just kidding. Anyway, I think it's time we wrap this up. Thanks for reading folks, next show at 11:30!

MICHAEL BRANDON

While on the set of Grunts, the latest masterpiece from Raging Stallion Studios, we were able to meet with gay porn icon Michael Brandon and discuss his long and varied career, as well as his personal life. He was extremely candid about everything from his recovery from crystal meth addiction to his career in gay porn and escorting as well as finding true love and yes of course, all about that third leg he keeps in his pants that he calls Monster.

Michael was born in Los Angeles, and was a sexually precocious child. In fact, he says that he has been having sexual encounters with other males since he was 8 years old. The first time that he had anal sex, was age 12, when he bottomed (!) for a cousin, and topped for the first time at age 17, with the woman who would later go on to become his wife.

Seven years after that, at age 24, Michael came out of the closet. Back then he was actually shy and reserved, and didn't go to parties and socialize because he was so used to being in the "straight" world, but he does admit that he was a big fan of the local adult bookstore. "I was the first one in the booths back when it was 25 cents a slot, and I was the first one with my pants down at that point and pulling the curtain open and whacking it and letting the boys come in and do their thing," he told us. These initial encounters with other guys were also the first time that he realized that his penis was so large, because before that, he didn't really have a frame of reference. Michael dubbed his manhood Monster.

One day back in 1989, he was reading a local gay publication when he saw an advertisement calling for XXX models, and thus a career was born. The first film he made was called Ranger Nick for In Hand Video. Michael's, or should I say Monster's, reputation preceded him, and everybody in the crew knew that he was "the one with the big dick" before he even stepped foot on the set. That actually intimidated Michael, but he found that first experience to be exhilarating...at first. Then things went awry.

"They locked all the doors and wouldn't allow any of us to leave," he explained. "They brought us all in at the same time and they were going to have us all leave at the same time, so there were like, you know, 15 of us models there. We were all sleeping on the floors and all kinds of shit, in this private house. After my scene I slept overnight and I started to get a little bit too antsy so I jumped the fence and went running down the neighborhood and found the first Denny's and the telephone. I called my agent at the time and said 'I have no idea where the fuck I am. Get me out of here. Oh, and make sure I get paid.' I had done my scene and there were three or four days left!" he chuckles.

Despite that dodgy initial experience, Michael went on to make around 10 movies before he found himself caught up in all of the excesses so readily available to those in the adult industry, and had developed a raging crystal methamphetamine habit. "I used to mainline it, which means that I used to use needles, and I'd put it right into my system and I'd immediately get effect. Well, I thought I was Superman one time. I went up on top of a three-story building and I jumped to another building. I saw something pretty on another rooftop and I wanted to go get it, so I just took one step backward and I just flew over. You just don't think clearly," he reflects. That drug habit first landed him on the streets, and then put him behind bars for almost 10 years.

Michael is quite open about his past when it comes to his addiction, and uses his personal experience to help others that are battling those same demons. In fact, he and a slew of other hot gay porn stars took part in a series of ads for Tweaker.org, to convince gay men that having hot sex without crystal meth is indeed possible. He practices what he preaches, too. This year marks 9 years that

Michael Brandon has been completely drug and alcohol free. When asked why he thinks that crystal use is so prevalent amongst gays, he offers this: "Number one, it's an escape for some of the stuff that homosexuals have to deal with. You know, family problems, society problems, whatever. Number two is the sexual aspect to it. You know, sex on speed seems to be so much fun and so much more intense. But 9 years off of it I am having some pretty fucking hot sex."

Clean and sober, and free from incarceration, Michael made a return to the business in 1999 in Late Night Porn from Stable Entertainment. Because he had been gone from the industry for so long, the casting director for that film actually took credit for "discovering" Michael, which still gives him a good laugh. "The following year as a matter of fact, I got nominated for Best Newcomer because nobody had really seen the 9 or 10 movies that I had done previously." Lots of high-profile porn work followed that, most notably being showcased in two Phil St. John movies (Getting It At The Rave and Double Delights) that each featured Michael, along with another big-dicked top, double-penetrating an adventurous bottom. (The DP is a St. John specialty.) However, it wasn't until he started working as a porn model for Raging Stallion Studios that Michael discovered a company that he wanted to work for behind the camera.

"Chris Ward, the president of Raging Stallion, after I had worked with him a couple of times as a model, came to me and said, 'You know, I have been looking for a top like you,'" Michael told us. And thus the Monster Bang line of videos was born. Yes, Michael named his production company after his penis, which had made him such a big star. "Monster Bang was designed after Monster and my style of fucking, which is aggressive to the point of brutality. Bottoms know they have been fucked when I get done with them: Two or three big-dicked tops fucking the shit out of bottoms, and just passing them around and all of us kind of having our way with them."

But don't look for any new videos starring Michael Brandon anytime soon. He has been in a committed, monogamous relationship for the past 3 years, and has retired both from performing in porn and from escorting as well. "I am absolutely in love," he declared.

In addition to helming Monster Bang, Michael also works in pre-production for all of the other Raging Stallion movies, and is still quite visible on the charity fundraiser circuit, particularly in the bay area. After almost 20 years, Michael Brandon is still a survivor that you can't keep down.

Refining Masturbation

How to grow hair on your palms and love it!
by Ken Furtado

The first documented act of masturbation may well be the story of Onan in Genesis. Yes, I'm talking about the Bible. When Onan's brother died and left his wife childless, it was Onan's responsibility, according to the laws of his tribe, to impregnate his brother's wife. Onan began the task, but at the last minute he pulled out and jacked off onto the ground. God was so pissed, he smote Onan on the spot. Talk about a killer orgasm.

Masturbation has had a bad rep ever since. Not only is it a mortal sin (if you're Roman Catholic), it will allegedly make you blind or retarded, or both, and it will cause hair to grow on your palms and on the soles of your feet. Since no one has ever seen a guy with hairy palms or soles, we must infer that nobody masturbates. Right.

Here are some toys whose manufacturers hope you will masturbate, and do so frequently. I tried out each and every one personally, and I swear by the hair of my chinny-chin-chin (since I have none on my palmy palm palm) that it's all true.

The reigning champ of masturbation devices right now is the Fleshjack. It's predecessor, the Fleshlight, was marketed to straights, until somebody got that proverbial better idea. The thing is designed to look like a flashlight — a big one. It is 10 inches tall, 4 inches in diameter at the wide end and nearly 2 ½ inches in diameter at the narrow (handle) end.

When you pop the lid off, you see the insert. Depending on the model, you get a life-sized pair of lips, a tiny bubble-butt or a simple slot. The material is supposed to feel like real skin; the manufacturer has even trademarked a name for it: Real Feel Super Skin. (Warming is recommended so that it doesn't feel like dead flesh.) It's not silicone, latex or plastic, but a secret patented substance.

The insert is hollow all the way through. All you need to do is dribble in some water-based lubricant, apply more lube to your cock, and fuck. There's a demo video, starring Johnny Castle, at the Web site, or you can check out Bradley in Neighborhood Buddies 5, who uses one in his solo. Sizzle.

Lots of options are available to customize your purchase. You can choose an outer case that is black, silver-gray, white or clear. You can choose an insert that is pink or transparent. And for the inner tubing of the insert, you can choose wonder wave (horizontal ribs), speed bump, super ribbed (more closely spaced ribs), original (smooth), tight and tighter.

The clear case with the transparent liner was cool because not only can you watch your cock going in and out, it also magnifies your cock and makes it look huge. The feeling is awesome and no condom is required. I tested a smooth, ribbed and speed bump model. They're all different enough to produce distinctly identifiable sensations. My favorite was the lips; the way they move when your cock is going in and out looks like a real mouth.

BoyZshop.com sells a similar device for about half the cost of the Fleshjack. It's called the Honey Pot and it's 8.5 inches tall, 3.25 inches wide at the top and about the same size at the base as the Fleshjack. There's only one color case (olive green), one color insert (flesh) a single tubing (smooth) and two kinds of orifices — mouth or anus.

The Honey Pot has a feature unique to itself, however: there's a vibrator in the base with a variable speed switch. The added tingle feels very nice, indeed.

If you have a thicker than average cock (I do), it may require considerable amounts of pain or considerable quantities of lube to negotiate the smaller diameter of the Honeypot and the constriction in the case at the neck of the device. I did not like the packaging, which features a busty model spreading the lips of her pussy.

The final device I tested, also provided by BoyZshop.

com, was the Robosuck II, a Doc Johnson product. A foot tall and 3 inches wide, at first glance it looks like a vacuum pump. You stick your cock into the knobby rubbery liner, adjust a sliding bar that positions a band around the circumference of your cock, then operate the switches on the control unit. One switch operates a vibrator and the other switch causes the band to move back and forth, as if someone were giving stroking your cock.

Compared to the vibrator on the Honeypot, this one was very noisy and you could hardly feel it. Since the constriction band cannot be adjusted to the girth of your cock, the effectiveness of the stroking is nil. The description for this product claims, "With so much happening to your cock, an orgasm is quickly coming," but I doubt anyone who uses the product would agree.

As with any sex toy, you want to be sure you clean all of these properly, so read the directions. The Fleshjack in particular is very fussy in its requirements and can be damaged by soaps, talcum powder or silicone-based lubes. If you spend $70 plus tax and shipping on a product, you don't want to ruin it after one use or find it fuzzy with mold the next time you pop the lid off.

Peyton Holt:

The Hunk Next Door

In the March issue of Men

There's something about Southern men. When Peyton Holt agreed to have nude photos snapped for the first time, he wasn't sure exactly what he was getting into. What would his folks or his old military buddies say?

Well, a southern gentlemen like Peyton won't keep the professionals waiting. So he shucked his nervousness as quickly as he shed his jeans, and as you'll see in the March issue of Men magazine, Peyton is a southern Adonis.

"Frankly, I was pretending to be someone else during that shoot," says the studly 36-year-old. "And whoever the heck that was, he was having an awful lot of fun!"

FLASHBACK: ROBBIE ANGEL

Robbie Angel first burst onto the scene as a resident of Chi Chi LaRue's now-defunct Live And Raw Hotel cam-house/website. His beauty and raw sexual energy and popularity amongst surfers made it a no-brainer that he would be signed as an exclusive model for her Rascal Video line.

He was definitely the "twinkiest" of the exclusives at that time. Since those were the early days of that company, he paved the way for today's models like Josh Vaughn and Cameron Marshall. He quickly garnered a large fanbase, appearing on the boxcovers of both Starting Young and Little Big League (both of which went on to become franchises for the company), as well as In The Can. (His scene opposite Julian Pierce in Starting Young was a real scorcher!) He also appeared in Seeing Stars, which was a vehicle for fellow Rascal Exclusive Theo Blake. Despite his popularity, Robbie quietly left the business in 2004, to pursue a career in accounting. However, he would still make the occasional cameo appearance at Chi Chi's West Hollywood nightclub event Dirty Deeds. Although he is no longer making adult films, Robbie's star still shines bright, and we wish him all the best.

STAR ON THE RISE:

BOBBY CLARK

They say the “Eyes are the windows to the soul” and when you gaze into the deep blue eyes of Bobby Clark, you cannot help but become mesmerized. At 23 years of age, Clark has that certain something that just oozes sensuality and the camera certainly loves him. To date, Clark has only appeared in solo scenes as he is self identified as straight. However, he is quick to point out “most of my friends are gay and I love going out with my friends to the local gay bars!” We love a straight guy who is totally comfortable within his skin!

Although Bobby enjoys football, living in Florida allows him to pursue his true athletic passion of wakeboarding year round. “I love being out on the water and the adrenaline rush I get when perfecting a new trick on my board.” We at JUB can think of a few other tricks we would like to see from Bobby! With his All American good looks, dynamic personality and athletic prowess, we are sure that we will be seeing a lot more of Bobby in the future.

For a more intimate look at Bobby Clark, check out his latest scenes at CockyBoys.com, CollegeDudes247 and Playgirl.tv. He is represented by FabScout Entertainment.
