JULY/AUGUST 2007

VOLUME 3

ISSUE 4

- Ben Patrick Johnson -

Ben Patrick Johnson photography by Matthew Mitchell, styling by Tosh Yanez.

Thanks for picking up the July/August 2007 Issue of the JustUsBoys.com Magazine! This being the summer issue, we've gone to great lengths to heat up the pages with a slew of articles and interviews related to muscle men and physical fitness.

First we visit with Ben Patrick Johnson, our hot and hunky cover guy. Ben is a leading Hollywood voice-over artist who also happens to have one of the best sets of abs we've ever seen. He fills us in on his latest endeavors, and shares some of his secrets for staying in tip-top shape.

Next we visit with the owner of MuscleHunks.com, a site that's overflowing with some of the most beautiful men online. While he doesn't usually grant interviews, we were able to convince him to spend a few minutes with us just before he headed out on another mission to scour the world for the perfect male physique. We also have a great chat with Vin Marco, the gorgeous fitness model behind ManifestMen.com, who's way more than just a pretty face. The successful bodybuilder is also an intelligent, motivated entrepreneur who gives a great interview.

There's also plenty of humor coming at you inside, as comedian Ant, host of Celebrity Fit Club, dishes about his show, his love life, and his own weight loss. Plus, the always funny Angel and Brandon gab about their soap-operatic lives in the fast lane.

We know you'll enjoy the tight abs and bulging biceps in this issue, and perhaps you'll even be inspired to emulate the success of the men we've featured. Two of our own employees started new diet programs after reading the weight loss stories of Ant and contributing columnist Angel. Both of these guys slimmed down with the NutriSystem program and as we go to press, Seth and Sha from JUB have already lost a combined 10 pounds! If you have a success story of your own, be sure to share it with JUB community in our very active forum!

See You On The Net!

◀ MOVIE REVIEW: Breathless

Titan is the industry leader in delivering rugged, masculine men to the porn masses, but with Breathless they have outdone themselves. Set amidst the lush forests of the Czech Republic, Breathless features an assortment of beautiful hairy-chested men doing what they do best. The cast is to die for: headed by the always flawless Francois Sagat, but also featuring the exquisitely handsome Alex Baresi, super cutie Damien Crosse and perfectly muscled Euro studs like Don Camillo, Glenn Santoro, and Carlos. Each scene unfolds through sprawling scenarios, never rushing from any position. The film is shot with impressive detail. Director Bruce Cam is careful to capture each subtle glance between the models, and his angles are amazing, displaying each model's gym-toned physique with love.

Bottom Line: Titan rarely disappoints but Breathless is one of their finest offerings. Each scene is an epic display of man sex and the models here are some of the best in the international industry. Rather than give audiences quick fucks, Breathless offers long, deliberate scenes that will keep viewers staring at the TV with one hand most likely occupied.

BPJ BEN PATRICK JOHNSON

Ben Patrick Johnson's voice is recognized across the nation. He is one of the signature voices of FOX and CBS where you've heard his smoky voice on House, Survivor, Cold Case, and other shows. He's also voiced over the trailers for more movies and commercials than we have room to mention, but there's much more to Ben than just his voice and good looks. Here's an inside look at this successful entrepreneur and heartthrob.

I heard you have a birthday soon. Do you mind sharing how old you are?

I'm 37. By the time this hits the stands, I'll be 38. Ironically, I used to be freaked out more by age than I am now. It's really no big deal. I'm in the prime of my life and it's easier to get a date now than when I was 20. I wonder what 40 will look and feel like. Probably about the same as now.

What is the secret to your success?

It's no secret, really. Work incredibly hard and never give up. Before I got my first book published, I collected so many rejection letters that the folder where I kept them started to look like a small-town phone book. It took me almost a decade of doing voice-overs before I could support myself at it.

And now you are about to release your newest novel. Can you tell us a little about it?

One Size Fits All is the story of an ambitious young L.A. fashion designer who gets in over his head by promising the same outrageous Oscars dress to three best actress nominees. Along the way, he has an affair with one of their heartthrob husbands, and all three women get into a tangle reminiscent of the play/movie "The Women."

It's somewhat light — hopefully a great summer read — but like all my books I try to allow it a soul and a message that we can all take to heart. In this case, it's about vanity and ambition, and how often the best things in life aren't those that glitter the most.

You're in great physical shape. I'm actually in awe of you right now. Where did this body come from?

I have a little deal with Satan. I try not to get into it too much. Seriously though, I think everything we do in our lives is reflected in our appearance on some level; certainly, in our skin and eyes — what we put in our bodies, how we exercise them, how much rest and spiritual/emotional space we give ourselves to grow and explore. I am far from perfect at the process, but I think the key is to lead a balanced life.

You are certainly doing something right! Can you tell us about your typical workout?

I do an hour of cardio on an empty stomach first thing every morning. Then, in the afternoon, I train with Tom Nelson of Muscle Mechanics L.A. He's been punishing me daily for the past 3 years and his old-school techniques are sometimes brutal, but always work. It's a lot of iron, noise and sweat, and not so much fancy stuff. We take plenty of time between sets so I can explode strength-wise each time.

What inspires you the most to stay fit?

I was a fat, out-of-shape kid. I still battle that. Also, with each passing year, I think about where I'm headed. I want to be in good health for many, many years to come. But let's be honest — the reason I train so hard is the reason most people do: vanity.

What advice would you give a reader that is trying to stay in shape?

Remember that it's a 24-hour-a-day job: it's not just about what you do in the gym. Your diet is extremely important, as is rest and keeping your stress levels low.

You're a very busy man, and recently started your own video webcast, Life on the Left Coast. Tell us more...

I wanted to grow more articulate as a public speaker -- to harness the power of my position in the community to say the sorts of things that matter to me. I want to affect people's lives in a positive way. Of course, to get people to pay attention to the "important" stuff, you have to catch and hold their attention. So we include plenty of sex, humor, and both male and female eye candy (okay, mostly male). Life on the Left Coast is a grown-up show with grown-up ideas.

The show has generated a lot of buzz. How did you get it to grow so quickly?

I'd like to think it's the quality of the show, and the amount of time and energy my whole team puts into assembling it each day. We have a skeleton crew doing the work that a "real" TV show would have a staff of dozens to accomplish.

Check out Ben's webcast online at lifeonthelleftcoast.com or youtube.com/benpatrickjohnson. Pre-order One Size Fits All at amazon.com, available at bookstores nationwide in July.

COLT

◀ MOVIE REVIEW: Naked Muscles

Colt Studios is determined to bring you the hottest muscle men on the planet, and with a roster of talent that includes Carlo Masi, Adam Champ, Chris Wide and Adam Dexter in their newest release Naked Muscle, they seem to be holding up their end of the bargain.

With four scenes of wall-to-wall muscle, this video steams from beginning to end. Newcomer Adam Champ is sizzling hot in his two scenes. His perfect body has just the right amount of hair, projecting a natural masculinity. He looks great with hunky white boy Chris Wide, and the shots of them fucking are a thing of beauty. Adam also appears in the movie fucking his real-life boyfriend Carlo Masi on, of all places, a motorcycle. The scene is pure Colt as these two muscle hunks go for broke in the highly stylized setting. Black stud Adam Dexter takes a turn screwing newcomer Cody Cooper but it's the film's final scene that will be the talk of the town. Porn icon Tom Chase bottoms for Carlo Masi proving that his ass is one of porn's most under-used gifts and then Tom pulls a flip-flop and uses his massive 11-inch tool on Masi who screams and begs for more. Tom still knows how to work it for the camera, teasing the viewers with breathtaking shots of his ass and cock that are hotter than the penetration scenes.

Bottom Line: Muscle, muscle, and more muscle is what Naked Muscle is all about. These guys are big, hunky boys and it is quite a treat to watch them get it on. If big studs with raging hormones are what you are looking for, then you will definitely be satisfied with this great fuck flick.

◀ SPOTLIGHT: WEHO ALT

Let's face it, hanging out at the bars and dragging yourself from party to party can sometimes feel a little superficial. If you're searching for a more authentic experience, and you're located in the Los Angeles area, the West Hollywood Alternative (WEHO ALT) just might fit the bill.

WEHO ALT is a non-profit, social networking organization that strives to be a viable alternative to the party culture by providing a safe space for the gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, and questioning communities.

The group offers education, networking opportunities, and planned activities, all conducted in an atmosphere free of drugs and alcohol. The overall goal is to help the community connect and evolve in ways that minimize substance abuse, and the spread of HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases, but that certainly doesn't limit the fun! Join WEHO ALT for regularly scheduled activities including movie nights, laser tag, trips to the beach, pool parties, and community outreach events.

a look at Zeb Atlas

Zeb Atlas is one of the sexiest and most popular men in the gay adult industry. His perfectly sculpted body has graced many magazine covers and calendars and in 2006, he was voted Men Magazine's "Man of the Year" for an unprecedented second time. Obviously we couldn't do a muscle and fitness issue without him, so we made it our mission to find out how he's able to keep his body in such perfect shape.

Zeb hits the gym 5 days a week and starts every day with 40 minutes of cardiovascular exercise. He does his cardio with just some coffee and a fat burner because he believes it forces his body to use stored fat to power the workout. After cardio, he eats 8 egg whites, scrambled with black pepper and green Tabasco for flavor, accompanied by a cup of oatmeal with Splenda and cinnamon. He washes it all down with Crystal Light. After answering a few e-mails and taking care of his daily business it's back to the gym to hit the weights for this muscle stud.

If you'd like to learn more about Zeb's diet and exercise plan, visit ZebAtlas.com for his complete 7 day routine. While you're there, you'll probably find further exercise inspiration by viewing the gorgeous photos and videos of Zeb's one of a kind physique. Not to mention the portfolios of other muscle hunks, muscle worship videos, live cam shows, and even access to Zeb's intimate online diary.

traveling the world in search of perfection

Rich O. stays very busy traveling the world discovering new talent for his two sizzling hot websites, MuscleHunks.com and PowerMen.com.

One of the most charming men you could ever meet, Rich is a true artist who enjoys painting, photography, and writing. We had a rare opportunity to catch up with him for an impromptu interview just before he boarded a plane for South America...

Muscle Hunk Hernando

Tell us about how you got started in the adult business.

It's hard to say exactly how it all started. For many years, friends of mine urged me to start taking pictures of some of the beautiful men I meet on my travels. I paint, you know, and it turns out that I'm also a compulsive photographer. So, I just started taking pictures of friends. I honestly didn't know anything about the adult industry at all.

How have you been able to find such stunning models?

Oh, I don't know. Mostly they're just friends... guys I meet when I travel. I never select models from the adult industry. Everyone has seen those guys a thousand times and usually, they're not in the greatest shape or, if they are, their faces are just average. I don't work with anyone unless they have both the face and the physique, and most adult stars don't have that going on in my opinion. Now, you'll probably point out that I did work with Zeb (Atlas) twice and he's definitely an adult star. That is true of course, but Zeb is a great model and is really in a class by himself. Almost all of the men I shoot are stars in their own branch of the professional fitness world. I meet them when I travel, and in no time at all they find out who I am and actually approach me to discuss working together. I guess I'm just lucky.

What are you looking for in the next MuscleHunk's discovery?

I never know who I'm going to meet! (Laughing). Why, do you know somebody?

Who are the most popular models on your site?

Rex Blackstone is definitely a star on the site. We ran a 'Model of the Year' thing on MuscleHunks and he won handily. Christian is something of a superstar, too. They are mainstream guys... you know, good looks, clear eyes, great physiques but not too ripped up. They're the most popular, but I shoot the really big, ripped guys too if they have interesting faces because our customers demand it. I also have an editor who's a bit of a muscle queen and he is always prompting me to shoot the big guys. We have a whole new investment going with Romanian guys. Have you seen their videos? Pretty amazing. These guys are in fantastic condition. They can do anything and they never get tired.

Whats coming up next for you guys?

More wrestling duos, and more great locations. Did I mention I love to travel? You're going to see a lot of new hot guys on Powermen.com too. It's a busy time for us and I'm happily snapping photos as fast as I can. Sorry, that's my plane. Got to go! Bye!

ANT

Many of us saw him first on Last Comic Standing where this openly gay comedian made his television debut. Since then his career has continued to skyrocket with a hosting gig on Celebrity Fit Club, recurring appearances on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, his own show on LOGO, and now he's coming back as a judge for this season of Last Comic Standing. ANT is hyper, irreverent, and downright fabulous. This is one of the funniest interviews we've ever done...

What inspired you to do stand up?

Jägermeister! No really. I was drunk at the Improv one night heckling (as usual) when the comic that was performing got pissed. He told me that if I thought I could do a better job then I should do it. I took it as a challenge and well here I am. I performed at that club for a while until I went on Last Comic Standing.

How much of your routine do you draw from real life experiences?

All of it. Very little of my stand up is made up. It comes from my life experiences.

You have been the host of Celebrity Fit Club since its inception. How did you get that gig?

Right after Last Comic Standing, VH1 approached me to host the show. I turned them down at first because I didn't want to host a weight loss show but after they introduced me to the executive producer, I fell in love with him and couldn't say no. I also felt I could relate to what the participants were going thru. I have been overweight myself. In the 80's I was at my highest at 236lbs. I am now at about 140lbs. give or take.

What about the show do you feel inspires others?

It is when the celebrities hit their target weight loss and they had to struggle to do it. That is how most of America does it. Struggle. Losing weight is not easy and is a constant battle. I think that when the viewers see what the celebrities are going thru and that they don't give up it is encouraging to people. They can do it too.

Which cast members from last season do you think took the show most seriously?

Maureen McCormick and Ross the Intern. Ross is totally hilarious. Stacey Kaiser, the new psychotherapist brought her daughters to the set one day. After the girls had left, Ross looked at Stacey and asked if her kids knew he was a man. He gets mistaken often by kids for a chick because of his round face and high pitched voice. Kids are cute and honest... and they just said to her... Mommy he looks like a girl. We died. He is so funny.

You've also lost a lot of weight since appearing on Last Comic Standing. What is the key to your success?

NutriSystem and wanting a better quality dick. For every 50 pounds I lose, I get to go out with guys with an extra 2 or 3 inches. If they had told me this 10 years ago, I'd be Nicole Richie thin right now.

How much of a part did Celebrity Fit Club play in your weight loss?

I was on the journey before Celebrity Fit Club, but doing the show is a good motivation to sustain my weight loss. I mean, I don't want to be the fat host of a weight loss show like Caroline Rhea from The Biggest Loser. Jeez she's ginormous. I bumped into her on a red carpet and I said, "Caroline, what's up with all the weight gain?" She said, "ANT, I'm retaining water." I thought, "Bitch, you're retaining pizza and burritos. Ain't no water here... Los Angeles is a desert not a dessert."

What advise would you give to those struggling with their own weight?

Form a plan and stick to it. Be realistic. Pick a goal that is attainable. When I recently lost my weight, I did it in increments. I said I only wanted to lose 2 pounds... then from there I lost 2 more. I never once said I want to lose 43 pounds... that would be discouraging and a big mountain to climb so take it in small bites (pun intended) and you can do it. I also visualize a small Pacman inside me eating away the fat while I diet. It seems to work for me.

In past routines, you mention that your family wasn't necessarily accepting of the gay lifestyle. How do they deal with you being an openly gay celebrity?

That is the key word. Because I am a celebrity they are cool with it. If I weren't, they wouldn't be. I guess it is hard to be mad at your gay son when he is buying you a house.

Being from New Hampshire and now living in Los Angeles, what was the biggest adjustment you had to make?

In Los Angeles, the guys are a lot more attractive and it's harder to trick them into going to bed with you. In New Hampshire, you didn't have to work as hard to get laid. I had never heard of pepper spray until I moved to the West Coast. That shit stings.

Tell us about your love life? How hard is it to find a date when you are a known celebrity?

It is easy to find sex but it is hard to find a date. I get offers for sex everywhere from airplanes, night clubs, on the streets and even in the grocery store. Finding someone that actually just wants to spend time together or go out to eat is the hard part. I happen to be in an open relationship right now so I have the best of both worlds. It gives me the luxury of both.

How can our readers find out more about ANT?

They can go to my official website: antcomic.com or my official myspace page at: myspace.com/comicant

Do you have any new projects in the works that our readers may be interested in?

I have been offered a show involving celebrities and magic. I have Last Comic Standing 5 on NBC premiering June 13th, where I will be a talent judge and of course Celebrity Fit Club on VH1.

MANIFESTMEN

JUB recently had the pleasure of talking with Vin Marco, one of the hottest recruiters in the adult business, to find out more about the man behind the muscle. We quickly realized that Vin wasn't just another ripped muscle god, but an all around nice guy who has a brain as big as his brawn. And if Vin isn't enough man for you, he also tells us about his best friend and brother, Gabe Marco, another star of this successful site.

What's the basic concept behind ManifestMen.com?

I began in the adult business after being scouted by a man in Oregon and soon thereafter ended up working non-exclusively with a couple studios. I was doing some solo video work and also working on a live webcam site. I looked around and very quickly realized that the guys that had a future were fully in control of their own images. I soon met my business partner, who was very interested in building a brand which featured the best muscle men in an artistic and erotic way without the 'cheese' factor. You won't find denim hot pants on Manifest Men. We were determined to create erotica that was as artistic as it was hot. The quality of our photography is a prime example. We found a need in an area in which we were both interested and set out to fill that need.

How long have you been building your body?

As a kid, I grew up helping my dad do his work out. I'd hang on his back while he did pull ups, I'd take his shoes off after his jogs, hold his feet down while he did sit ups, lay on his back while he did push ups. I would read his muscle mags and books. I was skinny most of my life. I was actually 6'1 and 150 lbs in 10th grade. Being skinny just made me work harder as I felt I had to prove myself to my BIGGER buddies. I never backed down from bigger guys and my size never kept me from surfing and doing the things I loved, but never for one second did I forget that my legs were about the size of most of my friends' arms. Like most of us who grew up this way, body building, the weight room was the answer.

After 10th grade is when you could say I turned it up. I came back in the 11th grade only to have people say "WTF happened to you?" I now had attention from my new found physical gains. I liked it and it just served as a motivation. Sad to say, but I realized early on that I was treated different. As a skinny kid, I had to fight to be accepted in a way that the big kids didn't. But after my gains, the jocks treated me differently, the coaches begged, but I was still the same guy inside so some things never changed. I shared the same gym as the jocks but still didn't have much in common. I liked the beach and didn't care much for pro sports. I just knew I loved the gym and what it did for me. Little did I know it would come to save me some 14 yrs later. Like many things in life, I had the chance to sit on both sides of the fence so to speak. I think this just helped me find compassion for people. It either does two things, you either find compassion or forget you were once there. I always help guys that ask for my help or advice in the gym. I was once that kid and will never forget.

What is the secret to your success as a bodybuilder?

Dedication and discipline have been the key. I have never been too proud to seek out the advice of those with even better physiques. Most of the pro bodybuilders work with nutritionists, trainers and even choreographers to create outstanding world class bodies. It takes a huge commitment of time and resources to do what top notch physique models do.

Do you think that because you also model and you are so fit you get a better response from potential talent?

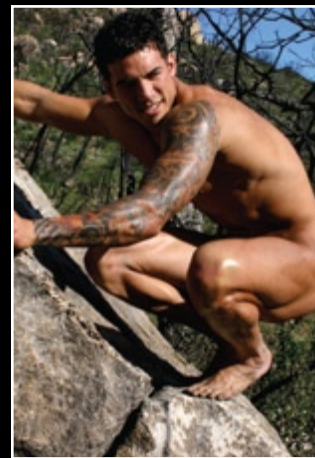

Absolutely. I believe it is because I can so easily put myself in their shoes and understand the work it takes to be in the kind of shape we require of our models that they relate to me so well. They know that I am not talking through my hat when I speak. Alex, my partner, and I sleep well at night knowing that we have treated our men well and never treat them like meat or commodities.

What is your passion?

My single greatest motivation is my family. In my culture and in my life—whether it is in my role as a father, spouse, son or brother, family is everything.

I notice that the site also features your brother, Gabe Marco. Growing up was there ever any sibling rivalry over who had the best body or who was the strongest?

I am almost 5 years older than Gabe so there was little rivalry. He went from being my baby brother to a best friend early on. As a Latino family, the disagreements were strong at times, but the love we share was always stronger. You recently featured Gabe in the JUB fresh faces section. He's appearing in Men Magazine in July and I am very proud of what he is accomplishing in his professional and personal life. He is and always will be mi hermano querido. Soon after Manifest Muscle was launched, Gabe and I were sharing an apartment. We have always been very comfortable together and he saw how much fun I was having with the live shows at Manifest Muscle (our webcam site) and asked to get involved. Gabe has those kind of movie star good looks that have men and women turning to stare, so it was a no brainer.

You just recently started a diary on the site. What inspired that?

So many members of Manifest Men write us asking the same kinds of questions you are. I wanted to give readers a true glimpse behind the scenes. Writing there is a great way to communicate with our extended family.

What can we expect next from ManifestMen.com?

Alex and I are working to build a brand that will be recognized around the world. As we grow, it is even easier to provide our members with the best of the best. Our goal is to create a complete online community for fans with cinematic videos, the finest images and the very best customer service. The pride we have in what we are building is tremendous. Regardless of how we have grown, we still deal with each and every member as though they were the only one. We learn something new almost everyday and that is a huge part of the reward in this business. It is constantly changing. New technology comes online and we are still young and nimble enough to be able to take full advantage of the benefits that these advances can bring to our members.

what's HOT !!

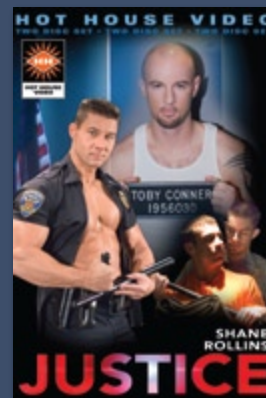

Nailed Mustang Studios

Mustang continues their trend of gritty, masculine fuck fantasies with Nailed. The plot is secondary to the scenes of hot men fucking in a filthy junk yard and mechanic's shop. With a cast that includes hunky men of all types such as Ken Browning, Manuel Torres, Marc Williams, Nick Marino, and Brendan Davies, things are definitely on the dirty side. This video is aimed at those with a fetish for mechanics and the scenes execute this fantasy in all its dirty glory. There is plenty of greasy fucking on the floor, around power tools, and next to gutted cars. The men are the manly type... all with big muscles, some with hairy chests and, of course, big cocks.

Bottom Line: Mustang has been keeping things hot with a series of ultra-masculine fantasy videos and Nailed is no exception. With lots of dirty fucks on greasy floors, this video will appeal to those of us who embrace our dirty side. Make sure you wipe up the floor when you're done!

Justice Hot House Studios

Leave it to Hot House Video to make a sex flick out of a horrible situation. In Justice, Shane Rollins is wrongfully accused and convicted of a crime that sends him to prison. The prison system is filled with cops like Tony Mecelli and Robert Van Damme, fellow inmates like Trevor Knight, scorching hot guards like newcomer Mike Roberts, and a parole board that features Marc Williams and Marco Paris. If this is what's in store when one gets arrested, then sign me up! This prison is 100% muscle and this film is an instant classic. No wonder it was the winner of a 2007 GAYVN Award for Best Oral Scene and was nominated for 11 awards including Best Picture.

Picking out the best scenes in a movie filled with so many nut-busting moments is a bit of a challenge but one that is well worth it. The first scene finds Shane Rollins' magnificent bubble ass being probed by the muscle duo of Robert Van Damme and Tony Mecelli. This impressive pair search for drugs in each of Shane's orifices but, of course, that's just a precursor to fucking him in the ass. The two abuse Shane with pure joy, using his hole and his mouth for their own enjoyment and definitely for the viewer's pleasure.

Bottom Line: Run out and get this video. If you love muscle guys, there are plenty to ogle at in this one, and the intensity of the sex scenes will satisfy the most jaded of porn fans. Filled with masculine rage and angry sex, this video is guaranteed to satisfy your desire for man flesh.

Angel Benton

& Brandon Baker

Brandon: They said this issue was all about Muscle and Fitness. What does that mean to me? Hot magazines with cute boys on the front with chiseled bodies and sweaty photo shoots. Oh yes!

Angel: Ummm...OK...yes, we definitely love that, but it's also important that we talk about being HEALTHY as well!

Brandon: My fitness regime is a hectic schedule. What's yours?

Angel: Well, I used to be a total Fatty McFatalot. Being gay and heavy is NOT fun, so I decided to make a change. The first thing I did was change my diet. I went on NutriSystem and I lost 30 lbs. The food is all provided for you, and it takes all the guesswork out of dieting.

Angel: The next thing I did was begin working out. It's important when selecting a fitness regime, that you find one that works for you. I chose Cardio Barre. For the uninitiated, Cardio Barre is ballet on crack! It's actually ballet exercises done at the ballet bar to circuit music... while you're lifting weights! It's crazy but SUCH a great workout! So when am I going to get YOU to come to Cardio Barre? Hmm??

Brandon: The only BAR that I am interested in is an OPEN BAR.

Angel: Le eye roll Quelle surprise. Actually, stripper-pole dancing classes are really popular now amongst boys AND girls. Who knows? You could be losing weight one day and feature dancing at Chi Chi La Rue's club Dirty Deeds the next!

Brandon: This last couple of months has been quite a workout. We were in Dallas judging a drag pageant, blew into Chicago for the Grabby's and the Military Ball, New York and a few other cities. Throwing parties is way fun but man, it's crazy. When my mom asks me what city I am in... I have to answer her with, "Let me check the street signs, mom." How do celebrities do it? I hardly have time to have sex.

Angel: Baby, baby, baby... you know as well as I do how celebrities have so much sex. It's called RentBoy! wink No no, I joke, that's how celebrities have so much COMPANIONSHIP!

Brandon: I like to dance which is a bit of a workout. When we are out at the clubs across the country, 135 beats a minute really helps to get the blood flowing. I am all about fitness, but the only thing I seem to run is my mouth. Unless you count that awful marathon you made me run last year. I thought I was going to die.

Angel: You know what? I thought you were going to die too, but seriously, I decided to do that because I thought to myself, "If Oprah's fat ass can run the Chicago Marathon, then I can DEFINITELY run the Los Angeles Marathon!" and just think, now little twink everywhere will think "If Brandon Baker's fat ass can run the Los Angeles Marathon, then I can run a marathon too!"

Angel: Now if you are looking for a muscular guy to play around with, try putting up a profile on BigMuscle.com You don't have to be all big and buff to be on the site. Do you have an account with them?

Brandon: I spend my time on www.BeefyFrat.com, but I am going to try this committed relationship thing for a bit. (I just hope I don't end up being committed any other way.) In the natural stage of progression and growing up, my escort experiences lead me to a more powerful and fulfilling relationship with a beautiful boy that I can really look forward to come home to and grow even more with.
